Thirteenth Annual Summer Fair

Record crowd in attendance. Splendid year is mirrored in fine exhibits of Grains, Grasses, Garden Truck and Native grown fruit. Ideal weather favors big holiday crowd.

Chinook Wins Keenly Contested Ball Game

Oyen's thirteenth annual summer fair, was from a point of attendance, the best in the history of the agricultural society. Beautiful weather favored the event and a holiday crowd ran the gate up to a new record.

A slight falling off in live stock entries was noticeable, more particularly in the sheep and swine classes, but grains, grasses and garden produce made a splendid showing, as did native fruits. Ladies work was exceptionally good, although the entries were not so numerous as in some of the past years. Exhibits in all classes were well up to standard of previous fairs and generally speaking this years exhibition was an unqualified success.

Considerable interest centred in the farm exhibits of Messrs Kerr and May, and Mr. E. D. Thygesen, who each demonstrated combines as well as other farm machinery. J. L. Asheson, exhibited binders. Some good horse racing was witnessed and a keenly contested baseball game between Chinook and Oyen furnished excellent entertainment. A horseshoe tournament proved very popular and was well contested.

A Harold Lloyd show at the theatre followed by a dance was well attended and concluded a good day's entertainment.

E. P. Ranch Improved

House Has Been Enlarged and Property is Beginning to Yield

Many improvements have been introduced on the Prince of Wales ranch since his last visit in 1924. The property is beginning to make some return to its Royal owner for the same he has spent in stocking and developing it.

It has always been the Prince's ambition to make his ranch, more than anything else, a model of its kind and an example for other farmers in the Dominion. The E.P. Ranch extends more than 6,000 acres, much as important and valuable as it is high-grade land, and is on one of the richest straw-growing and stock-raising regions to be found in Western America.

The ranch house has been enlarged and otherwise improved since his Royal Highness last saw it. A new lounge hall and extra bedrooms have been added. The whole dwelling is simply furnished. A few comfortable lounge chairs, a well-stocked book case or two, and one or two water-color pictures of neighborhood beauty spots are the only appearance of "luxury."

His sporting equipment, however, is very complete, and the Prince is able to enjoy good sport. On his own property wild ducks abound on one or two small lakes and on a tributary of the High River that winds through the ranch and provides it with water. Mountain trout are numerous in the stream, some of them attaining considerable size, while not far away prairie chickens and partridges are to be found in flocks at certain seasons of the year. When bigger game is sought, the Prince has not much farther to ride before he comes across the trail of herds of wild deer that range over the foothills of the Rockies.

Discontinue Bird Sanctuary

Lac La Poudre, after some seven years as a bird sanctuary, is likely to be discontinued as such. The Alberta game branch is advised that the Dominion parks department is now considering its abandonment and the reservation of other lakes in the vicinity instead. This action is understood to be the result of an agitation by settlers around the lake, who have asked to have the restrictions lifted.

A Difficult Salvaging Job

Raising of German Battle Cruiser is Remarkable Feat

Dropped in silence and seaward, the keel of the battle cruiser Moltke has been lifted above the surface of the water in the old anchorage ground at Sines, Flow in the Orkney, where the German fleet was informed after its surrender in the Firth of Forth on November 21, 1918, and where the vessel was scuttled by her crew on June 21, 1919.

When the wreck is finally beached in shallow water to be broken up, one of the most difficult jobs in the history of salvage will have come to a successful conclusion. The 27,000-ton Moltke, another of the scuttled battle cruisers, was raised with less difficulty. She lay on an even keel, so this lifting her, while a tremendous job, was a straight textbook problem. The lifting of the Moltke, which turned turtle as she sank, has presented great difficulties. In her case the successful salvage work has been due largely to the ingenuity of E. F. Cox, the square, nervous, pallid Londoner in his early forties, who at Sines Flow is usually found snarled from head to foot with grease and rust.

Mr. Cox is a shipwrecker and general merchant who never did a salvage job in his life until he went to Sines Flow three years ago. In the lonely Orkneys, which lie so far north of Scotland that you can read a newspaper outdoors at midnight at this time of year, he and a gang of 100 laborers have lifted 22 scuttled destroyers, the battle cruiser Hindenburg and now the Moltke.

In ordinary salvage no two jobs are ever exactly alike, and that holds good at Sines Flow, where the scuttled vessels lie in every conceivable position. Mr. Cox has pumps capable of handling more than a ton of water a second. He has pneumatic hammers, drills and riveters capable of delivering 1,500 blows a minute, either under water or above the surface. He has heavy pumps to pump the water in the slinky hold of a sunken vessel. He has a huge pontoon of various sizes, shaped so that it can be towed to the outer rim of a sunken ship. These when fastened into place beneath the water, are pumped out and the air within them exerts its lifting power. His salvaging ship—a floating machine shop with derricks capable of handling weights up to 50 tons—has powerful flat engines for towing.

Light Pierces Fog

Rainbow Super-Beacon Light Can Penetrate Mists

Raymond R. Marshall, of New York, son of R. H. Marshall, one of the leading X-ray experts in America in the early stages of its development is demonstrating his rainbow super-beacon light, which penetrates fog and makes possible airplane landings in bad weather.

The light, produced by devices invented by Mr. Marshall, has been exhibited at Hatley and other aviation clubs.

"We have demonstrated that this light can be seen many miles away, perhaps fifty," said Mr. Marshall, "it is a form of electric illumination without a filament. It is a 'cold light,' or produced without appreciable heat, by passing an electric current through rarified neon gas. The color is an unusual orange red, of 10,000 candle power. On very favorable days one at Sandy Hook was seen fifteen miles."

Government agencies are manifestly interested in the new discovery, and the devices beside them. The Bureau of Standards made a favorable report on the light.

Boats Were Held Up

Late Tide On Thames Caused Mild Sensation in London

The Thames as a rule is a most punctual stream and the steady ebb and flow of its tides are generally counted on to follow the hours printed in the shipping journals that any deviation from the expected produces a small sensation on the river. On a recent day, however, writes the London correspondent of the Christian Science Monitor, the flow was due to start at 8:31 a.m., but failed to put in any appearance until 10 a.m. Many boats, including the passenger boats, are now taking thousands of holiday makers down the river to Margate, were held up for an hour.

"The Thames is really very punctual in its tides," said the river superintendent of the Port of London Authority, "but once in a while it gets up, and the tide is either early or late. The delay of the flow was due to westerly wind in the Channel and a change in the air pressure caused by the wind."

The Claims Division of the general government accounting office at Washington has 500 employees and not a single telephone. S. B. Fulkerson, chief of the division, says his business is best transacted by correspondence, but his policy has drawn fire from many who criticize the slow methods employed.

Stars Honeymoon at Lake Louise

Exploring hidden glaciers, fishing, hiking, and making a film of their own with a new camera they had purchased, continued what Rod La Roque and Vilma Banky considered an ideal honeymoon. These two famous movie stars, who need no introduction to the American public, turned their backs on Hollywood recently for the honeymoon resort of Lake Louise in the Canadian Pacific Rockies, to spend their honeymoon. The accompanying photograph shows the six-foot-tall screen star and his beautiful Hungarian actress bride, photographed as they were wandering along a quiet path not far from the Chateau Lake Louise where they were guests during their two weeks' stay in the mountains. The wedding was adjudged one of the most popular amongst moving picture fans, style experts and other screen characters, that Hollywood has ever known.

Wounds Without Killing

Bullet Devised By Eastern Inventor Meets After Entering Body

Composed of glycerin, stearin and an antiseptic compound, a "deathless" bullet, devised by an eastern inventor, is intended to wound a person without killing him. It melts after entering the body, leaving a clean wound, but has force enough to stop a man at twenty feet, and would be useful in striking a vital spot. A feature of the bullet is that it makes twice as much noise as an ordinary one when fired, so it would be of aid to a citizen in spreading an alarm. Tests showed that it penetrated a one-inch plate board, it was also shot into a man to demonstrate its properties.

FOR BRITAIN AND UNITED STATES TO CO-OPERATE

London.—The Marquis of Blandford was the chief speaker at a dinner given at Dartmouth House by the English-speaking union in honor of the visiting United States editors.

"I am confident that His Majesty's government is seeking every possible means to arrive at an agreement in the question which is now the subject of so much discussion," said Lord Blandford, alluding to the disarmament dispute at Geneva. "His Majesty's government does not speak for one party. Certainly the party to which I belong (Britain) is associated with the government in the desire to reach an agreement."

During the Great War America and this country worked in the closest co-operation, with the utmost goodwill, striving for one common purpose. Are we still engaged in this common purpose? Are we still seeking international peace, and striving to avoid any recurrence of war?

"We sincerely have a common purpose, and can we not work with the same co-operation and goodwill, with the same trust we had during the war, striving again for the common purpose and perhaps, may I add, for a nobler purpose?"

"If God forbid anything should happen to make peace a thing of the past, in my mind, the world will suffer a terrible disaster. I believe in my inmost heart, after an experience of many years in this country and in yours, there is an almost sacred desire that we should achieve peace and maintain it. We should do all in our power to secure it in the future, and continue to labor together to the best of our ability to that end."

Detrol Airport Company Asks New

foundland To Grant Trust

St. John, Nfld.—The Newfoundland government has been requested to grant a trust of 100 acres of land near St. John's on the North side of Conception Bay, for purposes of trans-Atlantic aviation.

Fred Koehler, of Detroit, representing the Stinson Aeroplane Company, petitioned the government to grant a trust of 100 acres near St. John's for the purpose of establishing a runway 300 feet wide and 4,000 feet long.

The field, Koehler said, would be used primarily by the Vaco Air Service Company of Detroit, which is sponsoring an attempt to fly across the world in 15 days.

Afterward, Koehler said, the field would also be used for the purpose of flying to other parts of the world in 15 days.

The government was considering the application.

Decrease In Value

Of Creamery Butter

Although Canada's 1926 Production

Higher Than Previous Year

Statistics of the Western Canada dairy reports have been released by the Dominion bureau of statistics, based on statistics showing production in 1926.

Canada's production of creamery butter in 1926 amounted to 175,164,575 pounds, or 82,525,498 in 1925, an increase in quantity compared with the preceding year of 8,661,085 pounds, but a decrease in value of $53,048.

Prince Edward Island, Ontario, Manitoba and Saskatchewan record slight increases in production, while the other provinces show decreases. The total production for the year was 85,725 tons, worth $2,754,512 against 74,525 tons at $2,258,191 produced in 1925.

Estimate Number Of

Harvesters Required

Approximately 31,000 Will Be Needed

Winnipeg.—Approximately 31,000 harvesters from Eastern Canada and the middle west will be required by Western Canada to garner this year's crop.

The estimate was arrived at at a meeting here of representatives of the railways, the farm bureaus of the three prairie provinces and the government, and the employment bureau.

The first call for harvest help last year was for 58,000 men.

The distribution of imported harvest workers will be 24,000 to Saskatchewan, 8,000 to Alberta and 2,000 to Manitoba.

The first harvest special train will start moving from British Columbia to the prairies about the middle of August and the first from Eastern Canada about September 1.

To Stage Grand Rally

Conservatives Preparing For Big

Convention At Winnipeg

Ottawa.—Manitoba Conservatives are preparing for the Conservative convention to be held in Winnipeg, October 11. A manager is being appointed to carry out a full detailed program, according to advice received at opposition headquarters from General A. D. McLean, M.P., chairman of the national committee organizing for the meeting. Several thousand people from the prairie provinces alone will attend the convention, in addition to the official delegates, states General McLean. Arrangements are being made in the convention hall to accommodate 7,500 people.

Automatic Radio For Ocean Boats

London.—All large ocean-going vessels will shortly be fitted with a new automatic wireless alarm apparatus. The apparatus which has been designed by the Marconi Company, will automatically pick up a distress signal and then call attention to the fact that the vessel is within wireless range for sending out distress signals. This will relieve operators from the necessity of being always at their post.

Immigrants As Harvesters

Brandon, Man.—It is believed that the settlement of immigrants in the prairie provinces will greatly assist in harvest operations. At the employment bureau here it was stated that Brandon needs about 1,000 additional men. This is 500 lower than a year ago, but at coming of many immigrants helped solve the situation considerably.

London Paper Fears

Clash Of Popularity

"Truth" Afraid Canada Cannot Avoid

Showing Preference For Either

Prince Or Premier

London.—Truth, society and financial weekly, in a recent issue, says whenever possible the joint tour of the Prime Minister, Mr. Mackenzie King, and Premier and Mrs. Baldwin to Canada must be singularly lacking in imagination.

"The Prince of Wales is not the Sovereign and Mr. Baldwin is not a P.M.," Truth says, "but it is tedious to say the least about it, to run the risk of a clash of popularity and unthought rivalry between the King and the Prime Minister. The King of Great Britain, however, has the right to divide their popularity as he sees fit to divide their popularity as he sees fit."

Truth proceeds to declare that in its opinion the tour is a mistake because of the state of Premier Baldwin's health.

"Mr. Baldwin is going to take a 'bunny' 's holiday' by visiting a country house, in addition to long railway journeys, and exhausting physical meals, he will be expected to make the most difficult kind of travel, and to be in particular at every place he visits."

SOVIET ACTIVITY INTOLERABLE TO FRENCH PEOPLE

Paris.—Jean Herbet, French ambassador at Moscow, who recently returned from a tour of inspection to the Soviet government, returned to his post bearing instructions that the Soviet government be informed that communist propaganda in France is becoming intolerable to French public opinion, it was learned here.

Although the French foreign office says that M. Herbet was not instructed to make official representations involving both sides of the coin, in an exchange of notes, official circles are certain that he was to make the Soviet government acquainted with the informal and unofficial manner of the sentiment of the French people and government.

While in Paris the French ambassador to Moscow had conferences with President Doumergue, Premier Poincaré, and a Foreign Minister Briand and also discussed the Russian propaganda situation with prominent personalities of the press, commercial, industrial and banking worlds.

He is said to have left Paris with the official conviction as well as the personal belief that France is first of what it believes to be a connection between the Communist movement in France and the diplomatic mission of Soviet Russia in Paris. He is reported to have informed Foreign Minister Tardieu, quite frankly that if the Soviet government continues policy of coming to an agreement with France on the lines of trade, commerce and industry, the Soviet embassy at Paris must put a stop to its alleged activities here.

Life Is Threatened

Dublin.—James J. Walsh, following the assassination of Vice-President Kevin O'Higgins, received numerous threatening letters and the Irish Free state authorities placed him under police protection. It was learned here, a placard was placed on the front of the car, threatening the life of the Irish Free state authorities.

Girl Guides Tour Canada

Over 100 Girl Guides from the eastern provinces and three prominent English guides, embarked from New Toronto station recently on a special Canadian Pacific train for a tour through the western part of Canada, particularly the Canadian Rockies where the party will make camp at Banff and other famous mountain resorts.

This adventure in the mountains has been upmost in the minds of the guides for many months. The feature of their tour will be camps set up at various points in the Rockies, the first at Prince George, the last at the Okanagan Valley.

BETTER SPIRIT NOW PERVADES NAVAL PARLEY

London.—Hope that the "tangle" arising out of the Geneva naval conference will soon be unraveled is growing in official circles in the British capital. This is due largely to the statement made in the House of Commons by Sir Austen Chamberlain, Secretary for Foreign Affairs, outlining the new whole naval attitude toward the parley and containing the declaration:

"There need be no difficulty in arriving at a temporary arrangement which would settle the question of about the immediate future of cruiser building."

It was this question upon which the resolutions stated, Sir Austen Chamberlain said, was discussed in Parliament soon after Mr. Tom W. C. Bridges, First Lord of the Admiralty, and Viscount Grey, the chief British delegates to the naval conference started back for Geneva to re-open the discussions with the United States and Japanese delegates. The purpose of the Foreign Secretary's statement was to put the full weight of the British government behind the proposals the delegates will make.

A second reason for the statement was to remove the misunderstanding which the British government believes exists in the minds of many Americans regarding the British attitude toward the conference. It was made at Westminster, and the United States was not mentioned. It was nevertheless admittedly intended to give the United States audience of the people of the United States.

The Foreign Minister informed the Commons that the British government was not prepared to accept the principle of sea power equality as between Great Britain and the United States, established at the Washington conference, and he added emphatically:

"There is no foundation for such suggestions. The British government is repelled by the British government to complete agreement with the two-fold purpose of the Geneva meeting is outlined by President Coolidge's invitation—reduction of naval expenditures, while maintaining national security."

Manitoba Wheat Pool

Fourth Annual Meeting Is Held At Brandon

Brandon.—The fourth annual meeting of the Manitoba Co-operative Wheat Producers Ltd., was opened in the city hall. Approximately 250 delegates and thirty-two visitors are registered, making this the largest meeting ever held by the pool.

The membership in the wheat and coarse grain pool July 15 was 15,754. A drive has commenced for renewal of the contracts that will expire in 1928, and while only a small territory has been canvassed, practically all the old members have again contracted as well as 120 new members.

For the 1927-28 crop the pool operated 8 elevators. This year 20 were in operation and next year about 50 will be run by the pool. In 1925-26, every unit showed a surplus varying from 1.08 cents to 6.75 cents a bushel; 1926-27 figures are not yet available.

The central selling agency which is the selling body for the three wheat crops, reports 28 centres established in 15 different countries, and at present is considering the opening of a London office. The agency, the central selling agency, has made its own market and sells nearly 90 per cent. of its grain outside the ordinary channel.

An Ontario pool has just been organized, with about 8,000 members, and will also sell through the Central Agency.

Urges Sales Tax Cut

Resolution Adopted At Convention Of

Retail Merchants Association

Resolution Adopted At Convention Of Retail Merchants Association. N.Y.—The Dominion Board of the Retail Merchants Association of Canada here adopted 20 resolutions. The most important of these asked further reduction in the sales tax, protesting against the reduction in parcel post rates, requested tax on motor car hours, based proportionally on the operating expenses of merchants in the municipality in which they are conducting.

It is urged that such tax be paid to the government and distributed in proportion to the municipalities. The association pledged cooperation with other organizations with "reducing of the price evil on nationally advertised goods and the abolition of the stamp or "value" tax."

WORLD POULTRY CONFERENCE IS WELL ATTENDED

Ottawa.—With forty-two countries officially represented, the third world's poultry congress was opened here.

Nearly five thousand people including delegates and members from five continents, were present when Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, minister of agriculture for Canada, initiated proceedings. Some forty-two states of the American Union were represented, with all provinces of the British Isles delegates on hand.

On behalf of the British Empire, Lord Halifax, Viscount Grey, Viscount Willingdon, extended a hearty welcome to all international and Canadian delegates. Premier W. L. Mackenzie King, for the Dominion of Canada, greeted the visitors, while Mayor John Ballgarh, Ottawa, presented the key of the city to all members of the International Association of Poultry Investigators and Inspectors. President Brown, Hon. William Phillips, United States minister to Canada; W. D. Wilson, Holland, and Prof. Don Castello, Spain, responded to the speeches of welcome.

At the conclusion of the formal opening, Viscount Willingdon was the guest of honor at a luncheon tendered by the members of the congress.

Every inch of space in the auditorium was occupied when Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, minister of agriculture, as honorary chairman, initiated the proceedings. On behalf of the British Empire, His Excellency the Governor General, Viscount Willingdon, heartily welcomed the international and Canadian delegates.

Premier W. L. Mackenzie King greeted the visitors on behalf of the Canadian people and a civic welcome was then extended by Mayor John Ballgarh of Ottawa.

Edmund Brown, of London, England, congress chairman, briefly responded to the welcome extended by the delegates from some 42 states in the American Union, Hon. William Phillips, United States minister, expressed his deep appreciation for the efforts made by the Canadian government towards the comfort and happiness of his compatriots, many of whom were visiting the Canadian capital for the first time.

Ottawa.—Application has been made to the United States tariff commission for an increase in the tariff per pound on the maple sugar duty.

MANTOBA POOL WILL ACQUIRE MORE ELEVATORS

Brandon.—At the annual meeting of the Manitoba Co-operative Wheat Producers Ltd., it was decided to embark on a more aggressive elevator building policy. In response to a call for a "major program" that is possible under the present two cents per bushel deduction provision, the directors submitted a resolution that funds be loaned to build more elevators.

As collateral the Manitoba pool interest in the existing pool elevators will be increased up to 45 per cent. This resolution carried by a large majority.

Six out of the seven former board directors were re-elected.

Roy McCall, Brandon, secretary of the Manitoba Livestock Producers, Ltd., outlined the proposed international wheat pool in St. Paul, which is expected to open the new year.

Mr. MacCall, director of the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool, urged the delegates not to be blinded to the basic reasons for cooperation, nor to let the fact of elevators being the real object, which is the better marketing of the crops.

The pools have developed one another's interests, he told the meeting, and that is that the farmers will not stick together. It also has been shown that the wheat pool, the early days, worried by local propaganda did the intelligence of the farmers as great an injustice as the restriction of the monopoly, it is no longer causes uneasiness.

It was decided to hold the meeting in Brandon next year, and after votes of thanks the conference adjourned.

Dowager Queen Marie

Is Relatively Poor

Cannot Maintain Dignity Of Court Unless Government Grants

Bucharest.—King Ferdinand's death has left Queen Marie relatively a poor woman. Unless the state government is forced to grant the dowager queen she may be obliged to convert some of her jewels and other possessions into cash.

As already announced, Ferdinand's 200,000,000 left fortune (about $1,800,000) will be apportioned equally among the King's six children including Prince Carol, who will receive about $100,000. The Queen, however, receives nothing but the use of life of certain of the King's properties and palaces.

Queen Marie is said to feel keen distress over the financial situation and efforts have been started by friends to induce the cabinet to reconsider parliament a liberal allowance in order to enable her, as dowager queen, to maintain the former dignity and liberality of her court.

They hope to leave about the middle of August in a Fokker monoplane.

The latest statement of the flyers' plans show that their first objective will be Clifden, Galway, where they will fly to London, Ont., and thence back to London, Eng., their desire being to win the $5,000 offered for that feat.
